

Vita- Dr. René Anour

Dr. René Anour

René Anour started his doctoral studies at the Institute of Pathophysiology at the University of Veterinary Medicine, Vienna where his research was focused on bone and mineral homeostasis. After graduation he was invited as a visiting scientist to Harvard School of Dental Medicine, Boston, where he continued his research.

Since 2011 he is working as a clinical assessor for the Austrian Federal Office for Safety in Health Care and as a clinical expert to the European Medicine Agency. He has joined the EMA's Biosimilar Working Party in 2014 and was involved in the clinical assessment of several EMA scientific advices as well as marketing authorisation applications on Biosimilars.