

Joachim Burman graduated from medical school at Uppsala University 2001. He did his internship at the hospital of Hudiksvall and his neurology residency training at Uppsala University Hospital. He became a board-certified neurologist in 2009 and a consultant neurologist in 2014. Since 2017 he is also associate professor of neurology at Uppsala University.